

reading

Music is a universal language that speaks to our hearts and minds. It has the power to evoke emotions, create memories, and connect us to others. From the joyful beats of a dance track to the soothing melodies of a lullaby, music can express a wide range of feelings and experiences. Whether we are listening to our favorite songs or creating our own, music is an essential part of our lives, enriching our world with beauty and meaning.

dialogue

MIA: Wow, Ben. That sounds... sad.

BEN: (Stops playing) Yeah. It's supposed to be. It's about missing someone.

MIA: (Tilts her head) Music can do that? Make you feel like you miss someone?

BEN: (Nods) Definitely. Different kinds of music make you feel different things.

MIA: (Intrigued) Like what?

BEN: (Thinks for a moment) Well, fast music with lots of drums can make you feel excited or happy.

MIA: (Jumps up) Like a party!

BEN: Exactly. Or slow music with a guitar, like this one, can make you feel sad or thoughtful.

MIA: (Sits beside him) I never thought about it like that.

BEN: Music is like a secret language. It tells stories and makes you feel things without even using words.

MIA: (Looks at the piano keys) Can you teach me how to speak that language?

BEN: (Smiles) Of course. Start with this key...

0.1 adjectives of feelings: I feel...

sad, excited, joyful, melancholic, angry, calm, peaceful, anxious, worried, stressed, content, grateful, loved, inspired, surprised, amused, bored, apathetic, confused, scared, disgusted, revolted, ashamed, jealous, proud, 0.2 Can You Match These Words to Their Definitions?

ashamed	feeling embarrassed or guilty about something proud	feeling pleased and satisfied with your achievements angry	feeling strong emotions of displeasure or annoyance melancholic	feeling very sad and thoughtful excited	feeling very happy and enthusiastic bored	feeling uninterested or lacking excitement worried	feeling anxious or concerned about something amused	feeling entertained or finding something funny stressed	feeling under pressure and tense inspired	feeling motivated and creative loved	feeling cared for and valued by others apathetic	feeling indifferent or having no interest in anything scared	feeling afraid or frightened disgusted	feeling strong revulsion or disapproval confused	feeling unsure or puzzled about something surprised	feeling amazed or shocked by something unexpected sad	feeling unhappy or upset calm	feeling peaceful and relaxed joyful	feeling great happiness and pleasure which feelings for a song?

"Can't Stop the Feeling!" by Justin Timberlake

"Nuvole Bianche" by Ludovico Einaudi

"Yesterday" by The Beatles

"Lose Yourself" by Eminem

"Hallelujah" by Leonard Cohen